Carouge, 4 November 2011

To whom it may concern

From October 19th to October 21st 2011, the BWI - Building and Wood Workers International – a federation of global trade unions held its European Regional Meetings in Madrid with conference interpreting provided into a total of seven languages, in both plenary sessions and in four concurrent rooms, by the Agrupación de Interpretes de Madrid. Beth Gelb set up the interpreters' team and acted as our consultant interpreter for this event; she liaised both with the sound technicians and with me in order to insure proper organization and preparation as well as adequate coverage of all of the languages.

The conference went smoothly, full communication was ensured, and I gladly recommend Beth Gelb and the Agrupación de Intérpretes de Madrid for the organizing of similar events as we were satisfied in every respect. For any further information you may contact me by e-mail (iris.fillinger@bwint.org)

Yours Sincerely,

Iris Fillinger
